Kathleen A. Martz
Environmental Protection Specialist
SmartWay Transport Partnership
U.S. Environmental Protection Agency

SmartWay™ Transport, a part of EPA’s Transportation and Climate Division, is the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency’s partnership between the goods movement industry and government.

Kathleen A. Martz is an Environmental Protection Specialist currently serving as National Regions and Affiliate Program Manager on SmartWay’s Product Development and Implementation Team. Kathleen initiated SmartWay’s expansion into Canada and contributed to the program’s data quality protocols.

Prior to joining EPA, Kathleen held a number of positions with companies in industry, including a major supplier to the heavy-duty industrial sector.

Kathleen is based in Ann Arbor, Michigan at EPA’s National Vehicle and Fuel Emissions Lab.
